STRONG JAP LANDING MADE ON SINGAPORE

MacArthur Forces Successfully Repulse New Attacks

Situation on Island Well in Hand States British Commander

By C. YATES McDANIEL

Singapore, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Determined defenders of Singapore rallied for attack to throw a strong invading force of Japanese off their embattled island today after plunging them down to a 10-mile front along the western swamps and beaches.

"The situation is well in hand," declared Major General Henry Gordon Bennett, commander of the Australians, whose sector the Japanese had chosen for a surprise night landing.

"We have taken a stand on a strong line and are organizing an attack which it is hoped will recover as much as possible of the lost terrain."

(Tokyo broadcasts, heard in Oslo, declared Japanese parachutists took part in the battle, and reported that the Japanese navy was expected to join the attack at any moment in an all-out assault on the island.)

Under a hail of British artillery fire which swept the shallow waters of Johore Strait, the Japanese force was virtually beleaguered, unable to receive reinforcements at least until daylight.

Before dark, the Australians hoped to cut the invaders to pieces. This initial force gained its footing from boats between 11 p. m. and 1 a. m. today, under cover of an intense artillery barrage, between Sungei Kranji and Pasir Laba, west of the narrow causeway which formerly yoked Singapore with the Malay mainland.

There were no indications of attempted invasion thrusts elsewhere along Johore Strait, but the British said that Japanese bombers and fighters had been pounding their defenses everywhere since daylight.

British Hurricane fighters roared aloft to intercept the Japanese planes and were reported officially to have scored their biggest day's bag of the war over the beleaguered island.

Today's air victories were said to have brought to 73 the number of Japanese planes definitely shot down over Singapore.

(The Tokyo radio reported that Japanese tanks as well as infantry had been landed on Singapore island and said the Japanese forces were consolidating their positions under heavy fire.)

Presumably the Japanese used invasion barges to cross the narrow strait, the western reaches of which are less than a mile wide in some places, but the communiqué gave no details and did not indicate how the battle was going.

The assault came just 10 days after the last British forces had withdrawn from the Malay mainland, where for six weeks they had fought a losing struggle as the Japanese drove more than 400 miles down the peninsula from the Thai border.

The measure, providing both cash and contract authorizations, contemplates adding approximately 25,000 airplanes to the navy's sky force and enlarging the fleet for waging war in two oceans at once.

The legislation also made available $8,000,000,000 for the construction of war vessels ranging from battleships to torpedo boats and allocates another $5,000,000,000 for naval guns and ammunition.

The additional aircraft provided in the bill raises to a total of 100,000 the number for army and navy use for which congress has appropriated funds in the last nineteen months.

ASSIGNMENT BLOCKED
New York, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Mayor J. H. LaGuardia told questioners today he had blocked the assignment of Maryris Chaney, Philadelphia dancer and friend of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, to the morale division of the office of civilian defense in New York last December.

London, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A Tokyo broadcast recorded by Reuters today said the Japanese invaders of Singapore island had captured the Tengah airport, about 10 miles northwest of Singapore city.

London, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Reuters today quoted the Oslo radio as saying "Japanese parachutists took part in the fighting at several points in the interior of Singapore island." The Oslo radio quoted a Tokyo dispatch.

San Jose, Costa Rica, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The national Republican party, headed by President Rafael Calderon Guardia, won 19 of the 22 congressional seats at stake in yesterday's elections, it was announced officially today.

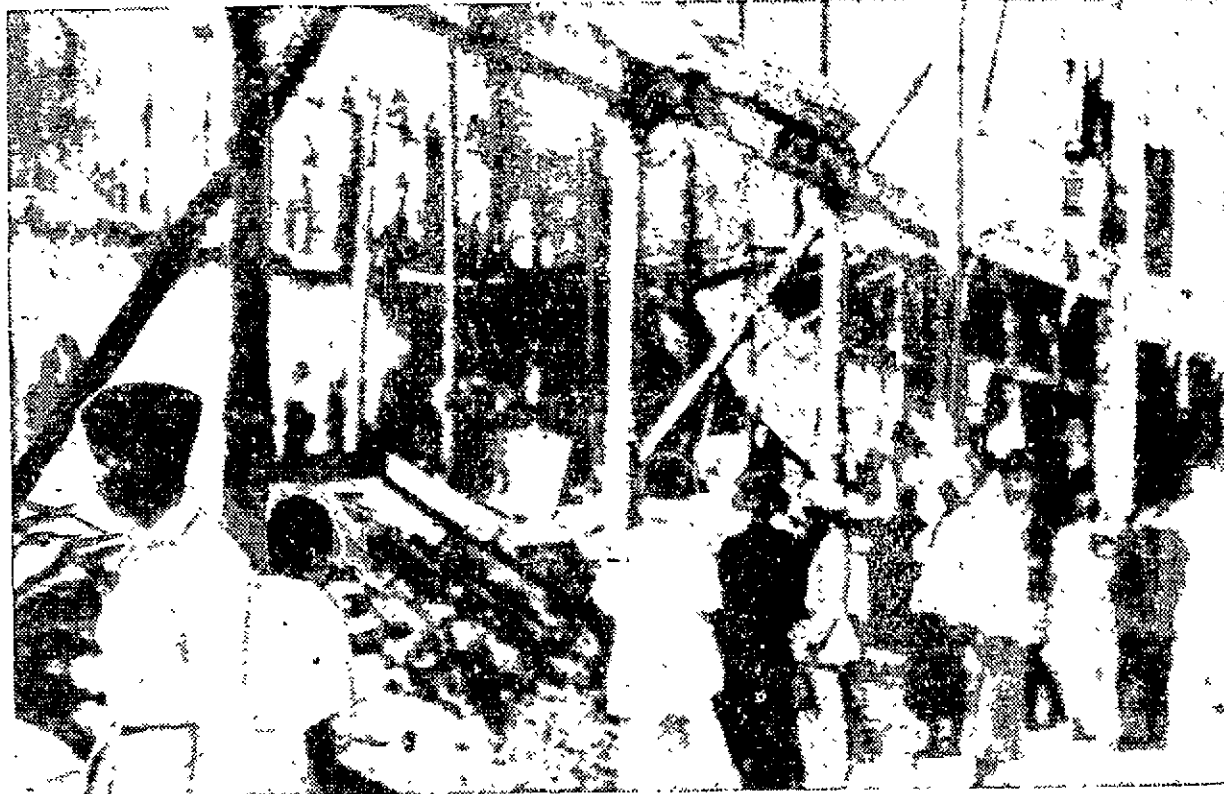

Tokyo (From Japanese Broadcasts), Feb. 9.—(AP)—Japanese bombing planes carried out extensive raids on the Rangoon, Burma, airfield early today as well as on military objectives at Martaban at the mouth of the Salween river, Domei dispatches reported.

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The house appropriations committee approved unanimously today a $500,000,000 fund to aid China.

Rangoon, Burma, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Crack Chinese fighters and fresh Indian troops bolstered the British on the Salween river front today where Japan's drive toward Rangoon and China's last gateway to the sea was stalled in northern Burma and, possibly, broken.

Batavia, N. E. I., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Japanese planes made their first raid of the Pacific war on Batavia, capital of the Netherlands East Indies, today in an intensifying series of air attacks believed here to be a prelude to an attempt at invasion of Java, center of the United Nations' resistance to the Japanese in the southwest Pacific.

Little Confusion as State Changes Over to War Time

TEACHERS ARE PLEDGED TO AID SUGAR PROGRAM

State Officials Awaiting Instructions From Washington Declare Plans Will Be Organized for Rationing Project

DATE IS UNCERTAIN

Harrisburg, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The help of Pennsylvania's 600,000 school teachers in administering a nation-wide sugar rationing program was pledged today by Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction.

"There is no doubt that Pennsylvania teachers will do what they can," he declared in commenting on the plan of Leon Henderson, federal price administrator, to organize sugar rationing at school buildings of the nation with the teachers administering the program.

The teachers, under the plan, will register each family in their district for sugar rationing cards and withhold books from those who have stocked up on sugar until their supplies are exhausted.

To put the plan into operation in the state, he said, were some 60,000 teachers serving in approximately 10,000 schools, large and small.

The superintendent said there was no machinery set up to do the mammoth job and none would be until he had received some kind of official instructions from Washington or state defense authorities.

GARBAGE COLLECTORS IN PITTSBURGH OUT

Pittsburgh, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A strike of mechanics, drivers and helpers at the city incinerator today halted all city garbage collections, except in the northside district where collections are made by a private contractor.

Within five hours after the strike began, Mayor Cornelius D. Scully requested William Miller, president of the AFL Refuse Drivers and Collectors Local 699, to order the drivers and collectors back to work and threatened dismissal for the strikers if the order were not obeyed.

The agency will be headed by Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the maritime commission.

Pennsylvanians Rise Hour Earlier Than Usual as Part of National Program To Conserve Electricity For War Industries

FOR THE DURATION

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The nation went on "war time" today, with all official clocks moved ahead one hour—for the duration.

The changeover was somewhat comparable to the action taken by other belligerent nations when the war began more than two years ago, and goes a step farther than "daylight saving" time established in the last war.

In that conflict, this nation moved its clocks up only from March to October.

Transportation services and the radio industry looked for little confusion. Indeed, they have been advocating the nationwide step on a year-round basis to supplement summer daylight time observance spotted over the country.

Large Sums are Refunded Taxpayers in the Nation

Many Prominent People, Including General MacArthur, are Found in List Released Today

TOTAL IS $54,006,883

BY A. H. SINGLETON
Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Having tax troubles? Here's consolation—the government had them, too, during the fiscal year of 1941.

And those particular woes provided cheery news to thousands who dug too deep in paying past levies, and as a result of over-assessments were refunded a total of $54,006,883.

If General MacArthur is not too preoccupied with other matters his name appeared for a modest sized refund.

CHAIN-BOUND BODY IS TAKEN FROM STREAM

Arkadelphia, Ark., Feb. 9.—(AP)—An autopsy was ordered today to determine what caused the death of 19-year-old Mary Bell Furrow, whose chain-bound scantily-clad body was recovered by officers last night from the Ouachita river at Calion, 65 miles southwest of here.

Sheriff Bill Wells said he and other officers were directed by a 27-year-old man to the spot where the body of the pretty bookkeeper was found in 25 feet of water. The man, Wells added, told them he placed it there after the girl died on Grindstone mountain, near here, a week ago following an attempted self operation.

MOROCCO SCENE OF OUTBREAK

Battle of Diplomacy and Propaganda for Strategic Position in Mediterranean Basin Overshadows Actual War, With London Blaming Axis for Sponsoring Riots

COUNTER-OFFENSIVE IN LIBYA SLOWING DOWN

By the Associated Press
The battle of diplomacy and propaganda for strategic position in the Mediterranean basin overshadowed actual war today, with the British charging the Axis with sponsoring a native outbreak against them in Spanish Morocco.

London disclosed that a strong protest had been lodged with the commander of the Spanish military forces at Tangier over "Axis-inspired" riots among the Moslem natives following the explosion of a time bomb for which Axis propagandists blamed the British.

An authoritative London source said the attention of the Spanish government probably would be directed to Axis attempts to embitter British-Spanish relations. Spain conceivably could be forced into war by Germany and Italy, old time benefactors of the present Nationalist government of Generalissimo Franco.

The inflammatory trend of Axis propaganda over the Tangier incident suggested that this was Adolf Hitler's objective.

Actual warfare in the Mediterranean region was marked by reports of a raid on the British naval base at Alexandria, Egypt, new air attacks on Malta and claims that Axis airmen scattered British imperial columns in eastern Libya. The Axis admitted a new RAF attack on Tripoli.

By and large, the British appeared to have checked the German-Italian counter-offensive in Libya about 10 miles west of Tobruk. The Axis offered no new claims of ground gained.

The Russians, meanwhile, were reported launching a new offensive (Turn to Page Ten)

PRIVATE PLANE IN RESTRICTED AREA FIRED UPON

Granite City, Ill., Feb. 9.—(AP)—A burst of gunfire ended the first air plane ride of Delbert Henson, 15-year-old Beverly Ann Keith, leaving Henson critically wounded.

He was given several blood transfusions.

The plane was flying near the restricted defense area at Alton, Ill., which houses the vast Western Cartridge Company plant.

Move to Strip OCD of Power Gains in House

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A move to strip the Office of Civilian Defense of authority to direct morale-building activities developed in congress today as the house resumed debate on a $100,000,000 OCD appropriation fund which has aroused a storm of controversy over the posts given Hollywood's Melvyn Douglas and dancer Maryris Chaney.

In the meanwhile Douglas, the screen star who has been one of the main targets of congressional objections to OCD personnel selections, asserted that he had been appointed to head the arts section on a "without compensation" basis.

The other main topic of debate was the appointment of Miss Chaney, dancer friend of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, as head of children's activities in the physical fitness division. Miss Chaney, defending her job last week, said she had not yet received any of her $4,600 a year salary.

Douglas, in a formal statement, protested that "what began as a personal attack upon me has grown into an attack upon a job which needs to be done, a job which is an essential part of the civilian defense program."

COOK HELD FOR DEATH OF HIS EX-SWEETHEART

Philadelphia, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Held without bail on homicide charges, William DeLancey, 33-year-old short order cook waited in Holmesburg prison today pending a coroner's inquest in the slaying of 22-year-old Mary Burbills, his pretty, blonde ex-sweetheart.

DeLancey, also known as Ray Harris DuBoise, has admitted strangling the young waitress in a jealous rage early Friday. Detective Samuel Ricciardi testified at a hearing before Magistrate Edward J. Connors.

DeLancey told police, Ricciardi said, that he choked the former Montgomery county jailer after she told him she had a date with another man. The two had lived together formerly, the detective said, and DeLancey had asked the girl to marry him.

Possibility of Victory In A Year Foreseen by Cripps

Bristol, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, former British ambassador to Moscow, told an audience today that if the United Nations were victorious the Soviet Union would be the strongest European power and "they are likely to end the war sitting in Berlin."

There is a great deal to be admired in Communism, Cripps said, but "much as I admire many of the policies of the Soviet Union I think we shall have a much better job of reconstruction in Europe if we have a share in it as well."

He spoke for the second consecutive day before Bristol audiences. Previously he had said that Germany's defeat with a year

BATTERIES ON CAVITE SILENCED

War Department Communiqué Declares Heavy Infantry Fighting Occurring at Several Points on Peninsula With Hostile Dive Bombers Active Overhead

INFILTRATION THRUST GAINS FOR THE ENEMY

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—General Douglas MacArthur reported today his troops on Bataan Peninsula in the Philippines repulsed new attacks by the Japanese while the Manila Bay fortifications silenced several enemy big gun siege batteries on the Cavite shore.

A war department communiqué said heavy infantry fighting had occurred at several points on the Peninsula with hostile dive bombers active overhead, but all attacks were repulsed by the American-Philippine defenders.

In the duel between the Corregidor string of fortifications at the entrance to Manila Bay and the hidden Japanese guns which have been bombarding the forts for several days, the forts' guns scored several direct hits on enemy batteries.

Synchronized with the renewed heavy pressure on the Bataan front was the systematic bombardment of the American forts which still bar the entrance of Manila Bay to Japanese naval forces.

Enemy land batteries, firing methodically every four minutes, threw their shells for the second successive day at the island fortifications which command the harbor's mouth. Nevertheless, no serious damage to the forts was reported in the war department communiqué which covered developments up until early Monday morning, Philippine time.

On the Bataan Peninsula, MacArthur's report to Washington yesterday told of Japanese pressure on both the right and left flank of his line, accompanied by twenty-four hours of heavy aerial bombardment of the American-Philippine positions.

NURSE ACCUSED OF SLAYING OF NEWBORN BABY

New York, Feb. 9.—(AP)—"One of the finest nurses that ever walked the floor" of the Bronx maternity hospital was charged today with the ominous slaying of a newborn baby girl whose crying upset her.

That description, augmented by the statement she was "an elegant nurse," was given yesterday by Hospital Superintendent Louise M. Wagner as Irma Twiss, 32, herself in tears, was formally accused of homicide in the death of the infant and also accused of feeding the narcotic to another.

"The babies' constant crying drove me crazy," Miss Twiss was quoted by Assistant District Attorney Martin Kraus as saying before (Turn to Page Nine)

Bristol, Eng., Feb. 9.—(AP)—The defeat of Germany within one year's time is possible, but it depends on American and British help for the Soviet Union, in the opinion of Sir Stafford Cripps, who saw Russia at first hand as Britain's wartime ambassador.

In two addresses yesterday, Cripps stressed the urgency for Britain to increase her war production and cast off a complacency he said he had noticed since his return from Russia a few weeks ago.

MEAT DEALERS ARE INVITED TO LOCAL MEETING

What the government's nutrition program means to the general public and how the retail meat dealer can use it to increase his efficiency in serving the housewife will be one of the topics of discussion at a meeting of Warren county meat retailers, to be held February 12 at the Y. M. C. A., it was announced today by C. L. Tyler, chairman in charge.

One of the highlights of the meeting will be a new motion picture showing the meat retailer how he can make his merchandising efforts more effective.

This meeting, Mr. Tyler explained, is a part of the meat educational program which has been in progress for more than a year and through which consumers are being brought to a fuller realization of the important part meat plays in the daily diet.

In addition to the motion picture, there will be a quick review of the meat educational program and a preview of what is to come. Special emphasis will be placed upon the meaning of the program to the retailer as a counselor to the housewife, Mr. Tyler said.

TIDIOUTE YOUTH
FATALLY HURT
IN AUTO CRASH

Earl Layorne Mitcham, 19, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mitcham, of Tidouite, was fatally injured at 5:45 p. m. yesterday when the automobile in which he was riding with Charles G. Shira, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Shira, also of Tidouite, left the highway near McGraw and crashed into a tree. Both young men were taken to the Titusville hospital, where Mitcham died about five minutes after being admitted. Dr. C. M. Some, Crawford county deputy coroner, said the young man's neck was broken.

According to the father of young Mitcham, the two boys drove to Oil City late yesterday afternoon and were returning when the accident occurred. He said they had not been gone from Tidouite more than two or three hours. The automobile, a Mercury two-door sedan, was owned by Shira and carried Ohio license plates, as he is employed at Ravenna, Ohio. He was spending the week-end with his parents.

Deputy Coroner Sonne said it was evident that the automobile was being driven at high speed. Shira was at the wheel and the accident occurred when he turned out into the snow in passing an approaching car. The young man lost control of the machine, which crashed head-on into a maple tree about three feet in diameter.

The crash occurred almost in front of the Late Peterson home at McGraw and the injured youths were carried into the Peterson home, from which calls were sent to Titusville for ambulances. The Arnold and Peterson ambulances responded, taking the injured men to the hospital.

S. R. Nicholson, who has an oil lease near McGraw, and Ellsworth Harrison, of Titusville, were en route to the Nicholson lease and arrived at the scene of the accident soon after the crash. They assisted in taking the injured into the Peterson home.

Dr. Sonne said last night that an inquest would be unnecessary and a certificate of accidental death will be issued in the case of Mitcham. In addition to the broken neck, the young man was cut and bruised on the face and legs.

Shira suffered a fracture of the right leg just above the ankle, as well as cuts and bruises on the head, arms and body. His condition last night was said to be good.

Earl L. Mitcham was born in Oil City on January 18, 1923, and the family has lived in Tidouite for the past 15 years. The young man was graduated from Tidouite High School in June, 1940. He was employed by his father in a machine shop in Tidouite.

The body was removed to the Sage Funeral Home in Tidouite last night and will be taken to the family home, Main street, Tidouite, today. Funeral services in his memory will be held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock from the Methodist church there and Rev. Fred Morris will officiate. Interment will be in the Tidouite cemetery.

FIREMEN HOLD SPECIAL SCHOOL AT YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, Feb. 7.—The local fire department began this week classes for auxiliary firemen. There were thirty-five present at this week's Tuesday evening class. The class is to teach the auxiliary firemen the fundamentals of fire fighting, so that in case of sabotage or any necessity where more firemen are needed there will be enough for adequate protection.

Seven of the local firemen belonging to the department attended the school in Warren and passed the state examination so are now qualified for teachers in this school.

Classes are to be held each Tuesday evening in the borough building at 7 p. m. There will also be a class at 9 a. m. Sunday morning for those who wish to take this auxiliary firemen's course and are unable to come at the weekly evening class.

WOMAN'S GROUP

Other features of the program were a devotional talk by Mrs. Dwight Jack, a lesson study of the W. S. C. S. text book and a review of the February issue of the "Methodist Woman" by Mrs. R. H. Knapp.

At the business session the quarterly mid-box opening was received and plans discussed for the work of the organization. A motion was made for the payment before the next meeting of $50.00 for missionary work and $50.00 for the church budget. A contribution was also made to the fund for church flags both national and Christian.

Pleasant light refreshments were served by the February committee. For the March meeting announcement was made of a playlet to be given and a talk on Negro work.

DANGEROUS BAGGAGE

Chapter 11 Still Alive

"AFTER that," MacDonald continued, "the lights went out all over the plant and there was the very devil to pay."

"What happened?"

The foreman shrugged. "Don't ask me. We've had short circuits before but nothing to put out the whole works. When I got to Stafford, he was staggering like a tipsy sailor and white as his own ghost. But he's still alive. Or was last time I saw him. They've got him in there now," and he pointed his pipe stem at the closed door.

For an hour, no one would tell Sharon how seriously Tom was hurt. Nurses hurrying by smiled vaguely or were crisply noncommittal. Finally, they said she could go in for a few minutes.

Only a night light burned in the room as she tiptoed in. For a moment, Tom didn't stir. Then slowly he opened his eyes, recognized her and the ghost of his old grin flickered across his white face.

"Hello," he said, his voice like a faint echo.

"Don't talk," Sharon crossed to the bedside. "You're supposed to be very quiet."

"Why?" He raised an eyebrow at her. "I'm not hurt just jolted up a bit—and still a little scared."

"Are you in pain?"

"If I said 'yes' would you stay and hold my hand?"

Smiling Sharon laid her hand into his. "Don't you ever take anything seriously?"

"Absolutely I take you very seriously."

"Don't you know you saved a man's life at the risk of losing your own?"

"A hero! See, I told you I was worth knowing." He pulled her down toward him. "Heroes always get kissed by pretty visitors. You may be the first."

Laughing in spite of herself, Sharon brushed a kiss against his forehead, drew away.

"Well—grinning. 'As a kiss that wasn't exactly Grade A. But it will have to do until I can really show you the technique.' He still held her hand firmly in his. 'Look, my wild Irish rose, will you have dinner with me tomorrow night? I'm still pretty jittery or I'd make it tonight too, but—'

"Tittering. 'Why are you—may be seriously—'

"Oh, no I'm not." Tom shook his head. "I may be a hero but I'm not a dead one. I'll be out of this place tomorrow if I have to make ropes of the bed sheets. We'll go dancing and I'll buy you orchids. That's a deal."

The nurse rustled in then and spared Sharon an answer. "You'd better go now, Miss The patient has suffered great shock and should rest."

"I won't rest till I get out of here," Tom muttered releasing her hand reluctantly.

The nurse straightened his pillow expertly. "She can come to see you again tomorrow."

"Hear that?" Tom's eyes teased her. "I'll be looking for you."

Sharon carried the picture of Tom's smile all the way down the hall to the deserted waiting room. Mr. Goodwin must be all wrong about him. No one would risk his life, injure himself no one knew how badly just to save the life of his enemy. What was Peterson to Tom? Just another of Goodwin's enemies?

Not a word. No one stopped at a mere human life! Tom was no enemy to the steel industry—or anyone else.

She went directly to a phone booth and called Mr. Goodwin's home again. This time Goodwin himself answered an accident at the plant," she began at once. "They were installing the new—"

"Where are you phoning from?" Goodwin interrupted sharply. "The Good Samaritan Hospital."

"A public phone?"

"Why—yes."

"Get a taxi and come out here as quickly as you can. Don't mention this to anyone until you've talked to me. Understand?"

"Yes, Mr. Goodwin."

Shaken, Sharon ran down the broad marble steps, halted a cruising taxi. Then, as they pushed slowly through downtown traffic, she tried to quiet the unreasoning fears that barked at the heels of her every thought. Mr. Goodwin had sounded so angry. More than that—so alarmed! What had she done now to incur his disapproval?

Forgiven

HARVEY GOODWIN opened the door himself. Sharon's anxiety had mounted with the elevator that lifted her to the luxurious penthouse, but she relaxed a little as she read the smiling forgiveness in his face.

"Hello, Sharon," he said, hands thrust deep in the pockets of his handsome maroon broad-lapelled lounge coat. "I owe you an apology. Your news startled me and I was annnoyed to think I'd failed to warn you against using public phones."

Her smile still a little uncertain, Sharon murmured, "I should have known that, myself. I just didn't think."

"I guess it did no harm this time, so forget it. Sit here, won't you?" and drew an armchair toward the fire roaring on the hearth.

And although the wind had been sharp outside, Sharon was more relieved to thaw the fight that had chilled her for the last half hour.

"Now," he said, "tell me what happened."

While she repeated, as nearly as she could, Mr. MacDonald's account of the accident, Goodwin paced the long drawing room restlessly. When she finished he came to stand before her, face a graven image, eyes searching hers without seeming to see her.

"You say MacDonald saw it happen?"

"Yes. He said Peterson had been warned not to—"

"Stafford was up on a ladder when he saw what Peterson was about to do?"

"Yes."

"And he jerked out of reach?"

Sharon nodded, trying to see where his questions were leading her.

"After that, he fell from the ladder?" Goodwin pinned her attention with his steady gaze.

"Yes—he lost his balance, grounded himself, and got the full jolt of 440 volts. The wire snapped out of his hand and then the lights went out."

"So he fell off that ladder," Mr. Goodwin repeated slowly. "But he didn't forget to hold that wire until it crossed another. I'll wager. Risked his life—maybe. But not for my sake."

"But—it was your workman he saved," Sharon defended Tom stoutly. "What was Peterson to him?"

"A perfect opportunity to make a hero of himself so we wouldn't suspect him."

"Suspect him? Of what?"

New Angle

"LOOK here, Sharon. Be logical! He pulled up an ottoman, sat down before her, 'Stafford wants to slow up production. He wants especially to sidetrack this particular shipment of valves to the L. A. shipyard factory we've been trying to rush through. He figures if he can focus our attention on his having risked his life to save Peterson, we won't notice or wonder about a short circuit that burned out all the wires in the plant! A delay that will cost us at least 48 hours and some four hundred cases of valves.' He pushed back the ottoman, stood up abruptly. 'I say that's not bad for a day's work!'"

"But—what do you wonder about that short circuit?"

"My dear Sharon. Every college freshman knows a short circuit can do damage, yes. But it doesn't burn out the whole plant—unless some one has deliberately blocked out the circuit breaker!"

"And you think Tom did that?"

"—slowly still not wanting to believe it."

"Well, else but our highly trained engineer would know how to make such a mistake? Certainly not Peterson or MacDonald. And there isn't another man in the plant who would know a circuit breaker when he saw one."

Sharon took a deep breath. "It's Goodwin's spite, isn't it?"

"That breaker had been blocked out—purposely."

Reluctantly, Sharon acknowledged his logic. Mr. Goodwin was right, of course. And yet, remembering Tom there in that hospital bed, she'd been so sure he couldn't have done anything if just didn't seem possible.

"But it is not only possible but probable. Our friend the enemy is no fool."

"But he seems so friendly—so nonchalant. People who are cruel, show it in their faces."

"Tom is a damned clever actor, my dear," Goodwin opened a hammered copper cigarette box, selected one, lit it carefully.

"I'll admit he'd have fooled me too if I hadn't had warning. And no doubt he believes he's in the right. As far as he is concerned, the case justifies the means."

Convinced now, Sharon felt the weight of her own responsibilities redouble.

"Convinced that your charming colleague is a wolf in sheep's clothing?" Goodwin smiled down at her.

"I'm afraid I am."

"You weren't until now, were you?"

"No," she admitted, honestly. "I tried to be. And then today—at the hospital—I thought you must be mistaken."

He laughed, turned to pull a bell cord for your not being able to reason for your not being able to get us any information about him. Maybe you'll do better now?"

"I'll try," and shivered at the prospect of what that promise might mean.

COUNTY POTATO GROWERS HEAR ANNUAL REPORT

The afternoon session of the annual meeting of the Warren County Cooperative Potato Growers Association, which was held all day Friday at the Y M C A, was attended by about 60 interested members and growers.

In charge of the meeting were Leshe Dodd, of Columbus, chairman and president of the association, C. P. H. Wuesthoff, county vocational supervisor and secretary of the association and John P. Fenstermacher, treasurer.

Following a dinner served at noon and entertainment provided by Vivian Hale, Virginia Peterson and Elaine Thompson, of Russell, a sound movie film on "Production and Cooperative Credit" was shown. The film revealed how necessary production loans can be negotiated at a minimum expense.

Burdette Weiler representative of the Credit Association, pointed out at the conclusion of the picture that over $100,000 worth of business will be transacted in Warren county this year. Mr. Weiler then showed another film which explained the part agriculture must play in the "all-out defense" effort.

The prospects of potato production and marketing was discussed by L. T. Dennison, fieldman for the State Cooperative Potato Growers Association. Briefly assuring growers that Pennsylvania must grow more potatoes for her own consumption to maintain a constant flow into state markets, Mr. Dennison repeated that the backbone of all marketing activity is proper grading of the product which in time will place Pennsylvania Potatoes on the same quality basis as Maine and Idaho.

He stated that it took them 25 years to build up a reputation and Pennsylvania growers as a group have been operating only since 1937. There have been very few complaints on quality during this marketing season, he said.

Most of production was discussed at some length with the conclusion that costs would be definitely 36 per cent higher than last year.

O. D. Burke, of Penn State College, explained disease control and advised the group concerning availability of good certified seed. Mr. Burke stressed the fact that local farmers must have more county grown certified seed to be more self-sufficient. The regular and thorough spraying of the potato fields throughout the growing season was emphasized.

Announcement was made that a meeting on spraying plans will be held Tuesday, March 17, at which time Mr. Burke will be present to discuss this problem.

Seven directors of the association were elected, as follows: Three years Charles Camp, Torpedo and John Jensen, Jr., Bear Lake, two years, Paul R. Duntley, Corydon, and Leslie Dodd, Columbus, one year, Harry Long, Pittsfield, W. D. Finzer, Akeley, and Leslie Hale, Youngsville. These directors will meet Monday, March 16, to organize.

Secretary Wuesthoff spoke concerning the splendid cooperation of the various agencies including the Production Credit Association, Agricultural Extension Association, Pennsylvania Cooperative Potato Growers' Association, Pennsylvania Department of Forestry and Waters and the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction.

All of these agencies contributed no little toward the success of the Warren County Cooperative Potato Growers' past year, he said.

Warren's infant industry—the frozen locker system—was briefly explained and an invitation was given to all farmers interested to time a real asset to the city as well as county dwellers.

To conclude the meeting Warren county's extension representative outlined plans for the coming months.

Before the war, the 4,300,000 passenger cars and 1,400,000 commercial motor vehicles in continental Europe required about 75,000,000 barrels, or more than 2,000,000,000 gallons of imported gasoline, in addition to quantities produced at home.

In December, 1942 the United States will be spending funds for the war effort at the rate of $5 million dollars a year, two and a half times the present rate.

Pennsylvania school directors, seeking representation on the board of control of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association, reported today they have not found a receptive, conciliatory or cooperative spirit on the part of the athletic body, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg. REAPPORTIONMENT

Editorial comments regarding the proposed plan for congressional reapportionment, which will keep Warren in the re-aligned 20th district along with the counties of Venango, Clarion, Forest, Elk, McKean, Potter and Cameron, reveal an interesting variety of opinions on the arrangement.

The Kane Republican, commenting on the fact that the plan brings counties in the new district to the primary elections on May 19, with no congressman now serving from any of the eight, declares:

While we are to be grouped with a number of new counties in the new bill, we shall remain in distinguished company. We shall be combined with the great oil field counties of Venango and Warren and with the great forestry counties of Clarion, Forest, Potter and Cameron. Our industrial potentialities will be great and any representative elected from this new district will have heavy responsibilities to his constituency.

We feel confident that within the new congressional district there will emerge a man who is fitted by training and ability to represent this new section and shall give him the support to which he is entitled.

The Franklin News-Herald takes an altogether different attitude on the subject, when it remarks as follows:

Is Venango County to be shunted to the backwoods with Cameron and Potter Counties, which are known principally as the "big game" country? If we are severed from Mercer County, our representation in Congress will be uniformly Grundy representation, and we insist that type of organization control is not in the best interests of the people of this county.

The threat is all the more emphasized by the fact that the plan has won the endorsement of the spokesmen for the Venango County Republic League, long-time tool in Venango County for Joe Grundy and the state organization he controls. For our part, we'll have none of it.

In a long editorial on the subject under the heading "Suits Us Fine," the Oil City Derrick among other things offers the following:

This suits us fine. It brings into one congressional district all of the oil-producing counties of northwestern Pennsylvania and makes it possible to send to congress someone who understands the problems of the Pennsylvania oil industry. There is little industrial affinity between Mercer, a steel-producing county, and the other counties in the district, all of which are supremely interested in oil.

Indeed it will give us an arrangement which we have long desired. Under this plan Congressman Benjamin Jarrett, if he cares to run for another term, will have to try his luck in the Erie-Crawford-Mercer district, or try to be elected congressman-at-large.

Whether or not the new arrangement will make it possible for Venango county to have a member of congress remains to be seen. Much will depend upon what the leaders in the other counties think of it. It is a long time since Venango county has had this honor, although its huge Republican vote has contributed greatly to Republican congressional representation. Of Mr. Jarrett's 19,000 majority in the last election in 1940, Venango alone gave him 10,000.

The Bradford Era, preferring to refrain from expressing an opinion on the merits of the change offers the following critical comment:

Democrats and Republicans in Pennsylvania have got together on a proposal to eliminate a Democratic and a Republican district with one congressman to be elected at-large. Why it took nearly a year to think up that one, will never be known. Looks directed at each other and bitter words brought about nothing that even looked like a solution. A stubby lead pencil and a sense of fairness were all that were required to bring order out of confusion.

PARASITES AND PARACHUTERS

Parasite is an ugly word, but it's worse in the midst of a crowded capital city.

Much of the discussion on the President's recent homily on parasites has been facetious. But there is a germ of the truth behind what the President said. It is most doubtful that he seriously implied kicking out of their homes old native residents of the capital, as some commentators implied.

Those who "never would be missed" are the society climbers, the people who go to Washington because "it's so interesting, especially just now," the lobbyists and lion-hunters, and all who go there without a serious purpose and prospect of helping to win the war. Fewer parasites and more parachuters is today's need.

In spite of continued advice to ignore reports that can not be verified the rumor factory in Warren seems to be working on a 24-hour schedule along with defense plants.

When they start eating less sugar maybe the women won't need the rubber girdles they may not be able to get.

EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Washington Correspondent

Washington, Feb. 9.—Some of the darnedest things do happen in war. You wouldn't think there would be many battles fought with machines in this age of bombers and tanks and submarines, yet one of the most important and realistic campaigns which the United States now has to conduct in maintaining the good neighbor policy is being waged with machetes. Not that people are carving each other up or cutting each other down. What it is really is a battle of propaganda over machetes.

A machete, you'll recall, is one of those wicked two-foot knives which any native-born citizen of a southern republic wields with such amazing dexterity not only to cut sugar cane, for which the implement was originally designed, but also as a razor, ax, hoe, toothpick, carving knife, fingernail trimmer, sword cleaver, scissors, adz, hatchet, lance, saw, pig sticker, and skinner, appendix remover, can opener, fly swatter, screwdriver, scythe, potato peeler, baby spanker, post hole digger, heart and home protector, letter opener, dug-out canoe digger, argument settler, fish cleaner, bread slicer, butter spreader and pea balancer. In other words, a handy trinket to have about and it's difficult to understand how the United States got where it did without wider use of the machete.

Anyway, the machete in the hot countries has an economic history and social significance, too. Every rural family has at least one male. A good, serviceable working model without any fancy carving, but with plenty of room for roches on the grip sells for the equivalent of $1.25 United States money. Because machetes have so many uses, however, and because they get such hard, everyday wear and tear and are whetted razor-sharp almost daily, a machete ordinarily lasts only a year.

The replacement market and demand are therefore steady and since the original design of 1812 or earlier seemed to give satisfaction down through the decades, retooling for new models never became necessary. A manufacturer who built up a business in machetes had a good thing to hand on to his grandchildren.

Since the last war, however, German and Japanese hardware and cutlery manufacturers, with fewer labor and cheaper materials and more vigorous competitive sales methods for cheaper lines of barber merchandise have been driving U. S. manufacturers out of the market. This is particularly true of the machete market. The result is that today there is only one U. S. manufacturer of machetes, Collins and Company, Hartford, Conn., who have developed this specialty into a major line resulting in foreign sales of thousands of dozens of machetes a year.

Comes the war. The supplies of German and Japanese machetes are cut off and the stocks on the shelves are reduced. There is a big demand for machetes from the United States.

Shrewd native wholesalers and retail hardware men in the machete countries size up the situation and decide that now is a good time to raise prices, even though there has been no advance in the manufacturer's price. Machetes which used to sell at $1.25 are advanced to $2.50 and even $3.75, just as a new sugar cane crop is to be cut. The natives howl as only they can howl when being robbed and the storekeepers shrug their shoulders as only they can gesticulate when driving a bargain.

All the arguments are on the side of the merchant—U. S. priorities, export control, shipping shortages—these are the things the merchant points to in justification. (Turn to Page Six)

STAMP NEWS

WARTIME secrecy provides a new stem for cachet collectors. The American Export Lines has announced covers will be carried on the maiden voyage of a new freighter but the name of the vessel, the date of sailing, ports of call, and date of return will be kept a secret.

The covers will bear stamps, high seas cancellations, censor marks, and will be returned to collectors next summer.

Additional designs of the embossed-stamp envelopes will be placed on sale in February. The envelopes had been scheduled for release late in 1941 but were deferred. A 6-cent airmail envelope has been added to original designs.

A word of warning is the slogan cancellation of New Zealand, most prolific among nations urging adoption of war slogans on postage cancellations. New Zealand's latest is "Let Us Regret—DON'T TALK."

The sale of postage stamps for collection purposes through the Philatelic Agency amounted to $1,536,000 in 1941, representing an increase of 5.2 per cent as compared with 1939.

New issues: Australia is reported considering a war propaganda series on the order of that of the Union of South Africa. Guatemala's copyrighted "Medio Centavo" on its 25-centavos brown-orange. The stamp, picturing a plate of Berrios, has also been twice surcharged "12" in black. The Airport Journal of Cuba reports that country is considering an issue of 5-centavos and 7-cent airmail stamps to mark the 47th anniversary of the discovery of America.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Years ago, when he was a ranking comedian on the nation's stages, old Lew Fields—he died in California a little while ago—old Lew Fields used to look at his kids, and think of the theater, and shake his head.

"Why don't you forget about the theater?" he counseled. "It's rewards are too few, too meager, and its heartaches are too numerous. I know you think it's glamorous, and I also know you think you know everything about it. There is to know. But you're wrong, I promise you. The only thing certain about the theater is that it's filled with disappointments."

That was a long, long time ago, when Dorothy Fields, and Herbert and Joseph were only yearlings. Later, when old Lew was very old indeed, and when his yearlings were famous, he used to recall this early warning and go into deep-throated chuckles of glee.

"Ho ho, haw-w-w, what a convincing lecturer I must have been," he'd gloat, "nobody paid attention to a word I said."

HE WAS wrong there, Dorothy, Herbert, and Joseph Fields listened intently to their illustrious pater. But they followed their own inclinations. Today, I doubt very seriously whether you could find the members of any single family that have distinguished themselves in so many ways as have old Lew's kids.

They have three stunning kids on Broadway at the moment, three others on the road, and they also have a movie in town. The hits in New York now are "My Sister Eileen," "Let's Face It," and "Junior Miss." Their movie is "Louisiana Purchase."

Their touring attractions are "Panama Hattie" and two companies of "My Sister Eileen."

IT WAS Herbert who wanted, more than anything else, to become an actor, and to cure him

Local & Society

Annual World Day Of Prayer Planned By Local Societies

The Federated Missionary Societies of Warren will observe the World Day of Prayer the first Friday in Lent, February 20, by a special program in the First Evangelical church with Mrs. W. L. Arnold, of that church, presiding. A committee to plan the service met yesterday in the Evangelical church; Mrs. Arnold, and Mrs. Guy McCloskey; Mrs. George L. Craft, Miss Mabel Abbott and Mrs. Ralph Whitehall, of the Presbyterian church; Mrs. E. A. Gilson and Mrs. Chester Robertson, of the United Brethren church; and Mrs. C. F. Sill, secretary-treasurer of the federation.

As far back as 1887 church women became interested in a day of prayer for missions, out of which has grown the World Day of Prayer now observed in more than fifty countries around the globe. More than 10,000 separate services in the United States alone will be held.

Last year Senator Davis of Pennsylvania on the floor of the Senate spoke of the day and read a detailed item regarding the day which went into the Congressional Record; Bruce Barton, representative from New York did the same in Congress. Marion Anderson in a concert at San Jose, California, dedicated an encore to the World Day of Prayer. Over at Bradford the "Bradford Star and Daily Record" devoted an entire page to an enlargement of the "Call to Prayer" which was arresting and spectacular.

The theme this year is "I am the Way" following closely upon last year's subject "Thy Kingdom Come". Great strides were made last year in the use of radio on the World Day of Prayer, not only the usual national hook-up over WABC but the Columbia Broadcasting Company also sent the 15-minute program out to the world by short wave.

In Omaha, Nebraska last year 2,500 women, representing 21 denominations came together. In England and Wales last year 422 NWB services were arranged by the Salvation Army and other consecrated workers, one of whom observed, "I find women everywhere deeply moved to be a part of this marvelous world-wide fellowship when other kinds of fellowship by pen, word, or person have become so difficult between nations".

The observance of the day this year should be even more significant as over a million women the world over gather in larger or smaller groups with the same prayer on their lips.

Undernourished? How ABSURD!

The average mother is shocked and incredulous when the physician says "Undernourished." However, every day counts in the proper building of a child's constitution, and the selection of a balanced diet is not a haphazard affair. During the first year, the average child grows 10 inches in length. Consider the various minerals, salts, carbohydrates, proteins and fats necessary to that much growth.

Through years of careful study, the physician knows the requirements of the individual, to maintain growth, good appetite, freedom from infection, normal mental and physical development. Give him a chance! It does not cost much to keep your child under the observation of your physician at regular intervals, and it may mean the difference between a fretful baby and a happy, thriving youngster. It may also mean the difference between a "spindly" legged, sickly, inactive child and a healthy, active, mentally alert future citizen.

Convulsions, bowlegs, bad teeth, anemia, rickets, and many other ailments of "sickly" children may be traceable to improper food.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

No. 39
Gain or Losses: Capital Assets

The term "capital assets" is defined as the property held by the taxpayer (whether or not connected with his trade or business), but does not include stock in trade of the taxpayer or property of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the taxpayer if on hand at the close of the taxable year, or property held by the taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business, or business of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation, or an obligation of the United States or its possessions, a State or Territory or political subdivision thereof, or of the District of Columbia, issued on or after March 1, 1941, on a discount basis and payable without interest at a fixed maturity date not exceeding one year from the date of issue.

Capital gains and losses are classified as "short-term" (applicable to capital assets held for 18 months or less) and "long-term" (applicable to capital assets held for more than 18 months). Such gains and losses are taken into consideration in the percentages shown on the return based upon the period of time during which the assets were held.

Short-term capital losses are allowable only to the extent of short-term capital gains. However, any net short-term capital loss (not in excess of the net income for the taxable year) may be carried over to the succeeding year and applied against the short-term capital gains not already offset by short-term capital losses in such year. The carry-over is restricted to one year.

In the case of a net long-term capital gain or loss, an alternative tax is imposed with respect to a gain if such tax is less than the normal tax and surtax on net income, and in the event of a loss, such alternative tax is imposed if greater than the normal tax and surtax on net income.

Where a taxpayer derives a net long-term capital gain and computes his tax under section 117 (c) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to alternative taxes, the base for determining the 15 percent limitation on the charitable contributions deduction pro-

WASHINGTON—The capital in wartime

Uncle Sam's pieces are in a stew. Earl Wilton (R-Ind.) has gone all out for a 11 p.m. curfew for girls in the government service.

The congressmen argue that if the girls tucked themselves in an hour before midnight, they could be up for a good hearty breakfast the next a.m. would have their make-up in place would be at work on time, and do their full eight-hours without once murmuring "Jeemmer, am I dead?"

In the interests of national defense, Representative Wilson says, every effort must be made to see that the girls working for the government are at the peak of efficiency.

THE idea of an 11 p.m. curfew checked and double-checked by the landlord or landlady, who will report directly to the employment agency, has the girls screaming.

They say "I'm always in before 11 on week nights but if it's lights out at that time, how am I going to get my hair washed; how am I going to get letters written to the family; how am I ever going to manicure my nails; how am I going to get in mending, bathing, facials, reading, my table tennis, music lessons, Spanish, etc.?"

So far as I'm concerned, the answer to all that is: "I don't know." If Congressmen Wilson does he may get some votes for his curfew law. If he gets enough we would like to nominate him for the most unpopular man in Washington—the ballot by Uncle Sam's niece.

THINGS happen funny in government. For instance, just when Washington was beginning to feel again about another epidemic, rat pups a WPA item from Cleveland, O., telling all and sundry what a magnificent job the WPA boys had done on Cleveland rats.

Federal health officials estimate that a rat does $2 worth of damage to a community a year. In Cleveland the WPA boys set out 350,000 poison baits—cost about $9,000. Result, according to Cleveland health officials, 100,000 dead rats. Net profit $191,000.

Some experts are willing to testify that Washington is the worst rat-infested city in the United States, but so far Congress has shown no inclination to save money for the District of Columbia by killing them off. Rat killing campaigns here now are carried on by the Boy Scouts, churches, and civic organizations.

vided by section 23 (a) of the Code and the earned income credit provided by section 23 (a) (3) of the Code is "net income."

Where a taxpayer sustains a net long-term capital loss and computes his tax under section 117 (c) (2) of the Code, the base for determining the charitable contributions deduction is "ordinary net income"—that is "net income" plus the amount of the net long-term capital loss—and the base for determining the "ordinary net income" credit is "ordinary net income" as adjusted for the charitable contributions deduction.

ing his higher price. Then comes the finishing touch, which is applied by the Nazi propagandist and sympathizer. This snake-in-the-grass, perhaps the merchant himself who used to handle German manufactures whispers the libel that these high prices, this shameful gouging is typical of Uncle Shylock's policy. All the Gringos want to do, they alibi, is shut out all competition and bleed their "good neighbors." The potentialities of this line of poison are obvious.

This particular story has a happy ending, for in the case of the U. S. machete manufacturer, he has a well-organized sales force and an established reputation. His agents are simply making the rounds to make sure the prices are kept down and the propaganda motif is suppressed.

Apply this problem to all the other lines of merchandise sold to the good neighbors and you get a real appreciation of some of the practical aspects of winning an economic war.

EXCHANGE CARD MAY
ALTER BIDDING VALUE
IN "SUPER BRIDGE"

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Yesterday I described the use of the joker in "Super Contract Bridge" as described in a pamphlet by Capt. John M. Elliott (U. S. N. retired). The joker increases the deck to 53 cards, and today I will explain how the extra card is handled in bridge.

Four hands of 13 cards are dealt in the usual way, and the extra card is then placed face-up on the table. After the declarer is determined, he will have the privilege of exchanging this card for any card in his own hand or dummy. The exchange is made immediately after the opening lead and lay-down of the dummy hand. Declarer may reject the exchange card if he wishes, playing with his two hands as dealt.

Naturally each side is entitled to include the exchange card with its other 26 in calculating its bidding values. When the exchange card is a high honor, the total bidding power is thus increased and a fierce battle for the contract may ensue. But even when it is a low card, the battle may rage because the exchange can greatly strengthen the pattern of a hand.

In today's hand, the declarer put the exchange card in dummy to lengthen the suit, and threw out the four of diamonds. He used his joker to stop the hearts after North was out, gave up one club trick to North, and won ten tricks. The extra trick came because South, having to discard on three clubs, could not guess that his only defense was to let go the six of diamonds.

ANNIVERSARY OF
BOY SCOUTING
OBSERVED HERE

Two hundred and fifty Boy Scouts and leaders met yesterday in the auditorium of the Warren High School in celebration of the 32nd anniversary of the Boy Scout movement as H. L. Banghart, president of the Warren county council, sounded the keynote for 1942, "Strong for America."

The assembled group saw a number of their brother Scouts recognized for advancement by H. P. Beamer, witnessed presentation of troop honors by C. W. Rogers and heard an address by Dr. J. A. Davidson, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Dr. Davidson in his address to the Scouts pointed a three-fold need for young men, a well-rounded life, a purposeful life and international fellowship.

To fill war orders and vital civilian needs, the United States can draw upon the facilities of 200,000 factories.

Card Party Adds to Fund of Red Cross

More than a hundred Grangers and their friends attended a card party held Saturday night by the Warren Grange as a benefit for the Warren County Chapter, American Red Cross, with $27 being turned over to the Emergency War Relief Fund as a result.

The five-gallon can of Emblem Motor oil donated by Harry Logan was presented to Mrs. Burr Garvin. Mrs. George Shuck received a cake given by the Davis Bakery for the highest score of the evening. Walter Ward won a duck for his inefficiency as a bridge player.

Warren Grange wishes to express its appreciation to the Odd Fellows, who gave the use of their hall, and to the several persons who contributed the gifts for prizes.

LAWRENCE PARK
WOMAN KILLED
AT UNION CITY

A Lawrence Park woman was instantly killed and her husband a former Warren man, escaped with bruises when their car struck the side of a locomotive on Erie railroad freight train at Union City about 10:45 o'clock last night.

Mrs. Floris Lucille Rohde, 24, 860 E. 1st St., Lawrence Park, was crushed to death when she was thrown from the automobile and landed between two cars of the freight train.

Her husband, Theodore S. Rohde, 24, grandson of Mrs. Gertrude Mohr, Pennsylvania avenue, east, was also thrown from the car but landed clear of the train and escaped with bruises.

According to reports of the accident, Mr. and Mrs. Rohde were on their way home from Lincolnville, where they visited the latter's father, Walter Anthony. It was stated that Mr. Rohde apparently speeded up his car in going up the slight grade leading to the Main street crossing of the Erie railroad at Union City.

The car was on the crossing before the crossing gate was lowered and struck the side of the locomotive on the westbound freight train. The car was hurled across, throwing both occupants out. Mrs. Rohde was dragged between two cars of the train for about 250 feet before the train was stopped.

The body was taken to the Grove Funeral Home in Union City. Deputy Arthur Crowe is investigating the accident.

According to reports today, the watchman at the crossing is quoted as having stated that the gate of the crossing had not been working properly and that while the gate was down before the train arrived, the other had not responded.

Mrs. Rohde is survived by her father, Walter Anthony, of Lincolnville; two brothers, Theo. A. Rohde, of Fort Meade, Md., and Walter Anthony, of North East; and one sister, Mrs. Manley Post of Union City.

Mr. and Mrs. Rohde were married last September. Mr. Rohde is employed in the General Electric plant at Erie.

Tony Zale Will Prove Whether Joe Louis Took Anything Out of Conn Last Summer; Pittsburgh Kid Risks Prestige for Purse

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor
New York, Feb. 9.—William Conn returns to the big apple at the Garden, Feb. 13, for the first time since a lot of folks suspected he grew a bit careless in the 13th round against Joe Louis last June. The difference this time is that in place of conceding a large chunk of weight, Billy Conn is being spotted a dozen pounds or so by Tony Zale.

Conn has agreed to do 175 pounds, which he should make without undue trouble. Zale will come in at about 163. The Pittsburgh Kid towers over the middleweight champion and has a proportionate advantage in reach. It is a classy 12-round match, which will prove, among other things, whether Louis took anything out of Conn.

If Conn has all of his old flash, he will be the first to be much accounted for a treatment by Louis and Billy the Kid went farther than most challengers.

As to the outstanding heavy-weight challenger, Conn risks much prestige in tackling Zale. The Irish youth must win clearly to retain his position.

All he has to gain is a rich purse, which is the answer to the match.

This handicap meeting of a boxer and a better will pack the House That Tax Built at from $1.15 to $11.50, which spells an $80,000 gross.

That's important money these times at any time.

With Conn at 175 pounds, Zale easily could claim the light-heavyweight leadership if his hand is raised. Gus Lesnevich only fought himself to a trick title while Conn took a whack at the biggest fellows. The fact that the scrap is listed for no more than 12 rounds doesn't mean a thing. Gene Tunney sealed the heights after 10.

This is to be no picnic for Conn, and he knows it.

Zale, the former Gary steelworker, goes down under a punch occasionally, but gets up to stir up plenty of trouble.

Zale is one of the most unorthodox workmen you ever laid eyes on. He has a peculiar left uppercut and what used to be considered the bad habit of leading with his right.

But the boy who wrecked Al Hostak and trounced George

Tony Zale, right, is middleweight champion, but Billy Conn has sizable pull in weights and insists he's hot.

Trenton Lightheavy May Fight Billy Conn

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 9.—(P)—Larry Lane, Trenton light-heavyweight, has accepted an offer to fight Billy Conn of Pittsburgh in Detroit or Milwaukee within a month in a benefit for the Navy Relief Fund, Willie Gitzberg, Lane's manager, said today.

Gitzberg said the offer came from Lt. Cmdr. Frank Teller of the United States Naval Reserve. The fight would be held three weeks after Conn's bout this Friday with Tony Zale of Gary, Ind.

ABC TO SPREAD RECORD AMOUNT AMONG WINNERS

Milwaukee, Feb. 7.—(P)—A $369,000 prize melon, largest in American Bowling Congress history, has attracted a record 5,173 out-of-town teams to the 42nd annual ABC tournament at Columbus, Ohio.

Elmer Baugarten, ABC secretary, announced today that the prize money was higher by $9,000 than the previous record amount; the nation's leading keglers competed for two years ago at Detroit.

A total team entry list of 5,744 has been received for the Buckeye capital alleys and the number of bowlers from outside Columbus environs will surpass last year's record of 4,687 squads which visited St. Paul for the 1941 tournament.

The Minnesota city was one of two sites with larger total team entry lists than that compiled for Columbus. St. Paul drew 5,797 teams last year for second high honors in ABC history. Detroit, host to the 1940 tournament, had 6,073 squads greatest number on record.

The first balls will thunder down 36 alleys in the Ohio State Fair Park Coliseum on March 3. Seventy-two days later, on May 13, the last pin will have tumbled and a new record schedule length completed.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 9.—(P)—Baseball will have a "good year" this season, Bill Brandt, publicity director of the National League, said last night at the 11th annual show of the Pittsburgh Baseball Writers' Association.

Hans Lobert, honor guest of the evening, was enthusiastic over his new duties as pilot of the Phillies and predicted his players would run their way to many victories.

"I'm going to keep them running all the time," he said, telling Frankie Frisch, manager of the Pittsburgh club, "We're going to out-run your Pirates!"

GOLF NEWCOMER WINS WESTERN OPEN TOURNEY

BY ROBERT MYERS
Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 9.—(P)—The name of Herman Barron, a newcomer to golf fame, was added today to a list of illustrious past winners of the 42-year-old Western Open Championship.

To a roll of honor that includes such stars of the game as Hagen, Sarazen, Long, Jim Barnes, Macdonald, Sam and Chick Evans, the name of this 32-year-old White Plains, N. Y., professional was placed after a sparkling triumph in the tournament finals yesterday.

Leaving the better known pros in an also-ran scramble, Barron wound up his 72-hole climb to the top with rounds of 68-69-71-67-276, which was two strokes better than his nearest competitor, Henry Picard of Oklahoma City.

A veteran of 13 years on the professional tournament circuit, yet never a winner before, Barron started out on the final 36 holes four strokes behind the leader, Herman Keiser of Akron, Ohio, another dark horse.

At the 54-hole mark Barron was still three down behind a pace setting trio that included Pickard, Keiser and Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va. He came on with a rush, as they faded under last round pressure.

Lankie E. (Dutch) Harrison, Chicago, finished third with 278 and final rounds of 72-70 and 74, was one shot back. Lawson Little made a belated last day (Turn To Page Ten)

WILSON REFUSES TO FIGHT RODAK

Pittsburgh, Feb. 9.—(P)—Fight promoters hustled around today trying to find an eleventh-hour substitute for NEA Featherweight Champion Jackie Wilson, who backed out of his 10-round bout on the Infantile Paralysis Sports Fund program here tonight.

Wilson refused to meet Leo Rodak, Chicago lightweight, who has beaten the Pittsburgh negro boy in three of their fights. The other three ended in draws. The 127-pound Wilson told the committee that Rodak, who normally comes in at 134 pounds, was too big for him.

Officials said Wilson faces possible suspension in Pennsylvania and states under NEA supervision. The rest of the card will go on as scheduled, one of the features being a 10-rounder between Eugene Zivic, former welterweight champion, and Raul Carabantes of Chile in one of the preliminaries. Jackie Conn, brother of Billy Conn, will make his debut as a heavyweight against Bearcat Jones, giant Pittsburgh negro.

Wilson Refuses To Fight Rodak

Badly battered and down for the count at Sheffield last Friday night, Warren High Dragons, like a veteran pugilist whose flesh is still willing but whose heart is getting weak, will try to get back some of their formerly brimming enthusiasm and confidence tomorrow night when they return home for their first league contest since last January 23, to meet the Johnsbury Jays, winners in their first start of the second session last Friday by a 49-21 count over Emporium.

The Kolpiemmen are expected to have the services again of Bob Wright, the difference between probably a close defeat and Sheffield's doubling the score in registering that feat last week on the Orange and Black court. Home with laryngitis at that time, Wright was waging a harder battle by himself than his mates found at Sheffield, and he was more successful, too.

Wright's impolence to the team as a ball "feeder" was evident at Sheffield, for without the steady hand of Wright, the team's Smith "won't" worth a nickel, for he never had a shot set up where he could get in close and bag away at the basket. On the backboards, where Wright and Dean Nelson have been Warren's strongest representatives, his outstanding play was made more outstanding, as fans began to realize that there is something more to the team than just pegging away at the hoop.

Johnsbury gave the Warren boys a lengthy show last time on the Rambler court, with the Kolpiemmen coming away with a sweat and an anti-throat decision at 34-32 in overtime. (Turn To Page Ten)

A's Vanguard Is Off To Sunny California

Philadelphia, Feb. 9.—(P)—Two pitchers and a trainer, largely the vanguard of Connie Mack's Athletics—left last night for spring training in California.

Pitchers Talmadge Abernathy of Albemarle, N. C., and Dick Fowler of Toronto, and Trainer Jim Tingley of Collegeville were glad to get away from Philadelphia's icy weather in favor of sometimes sunny California.

Pitcher Freddy Calhoun of Wilmington, Del., joined the trio at Pittsburgh.

25 Pounds Lighter, Ruth Feeling Swell

Hollywood, Feb. 9.—(P)—A siege of illness has whittled 25 pounds from the ample frame of George Herman Ruth, but he says he feels 10 years younger "and if my legs were good I'd still be holding that ol' horseshoe."

The Babe is going to play himself in the movie depicting the life of Lou Gehrig, and he'll be here six weeks, appearing before the cameras and playing golf. He says he's feeling fine.

FIFTH AT WORST IS MACK TARGET

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 9.—(P)—The Philadelphia Athletics who wound up last season in eighth, will finish the coming season in fourth place if they get the breaks and "no worse than fifth no matter what happens."

That's the starchy-eyed prediction of Al Simmons, "Old Buck-tooth," who is now a coach for Connie Mack.

Simmons' optimism was a bit shaken by the fact that the Athletics lost their brightest star, Outfielder Sam Chapman, and their regular second baseman, Benny McCoy, to the army and navy.

"We hit only a point less than the Yankees last season," he explained, "and we lost a lot of games that a little better pitching might have won. I think our hitting will be as good as our pitching better this year."

"Naturally, losing Chapman is going to hurt pretty. He hit .322 and drove in 106 runs last year. And McCoy was coming along fast and should have had a big year. But we've still got a pretty fair outfield with Bob Johnson, Dick Miles and Mike Kreevich and this young fellow 'Crash' Davis, is a good looking second baseman."

As for the A's pitching, Simmons tabbed the prospects "mighty bright."

He predicted big things for Phil Marchiondi, the young Canadian who won 12 games for the A's as a freshman last year.

LITTLE Confusion as State Changes Over to War Time. Harrisburg, Feb. 9.—(P)—Pennsylvania went on war time today, rising an hour earlier than usual in part of a national program to conserve electricity for busy war industries.

Here and there over the state, a few sheepish men and women hurried to work late this morning—they were the ones who forgot to turn their clocks ahead an hour before they went to bed last night. Most householders, however, remembered the chore and cheered themselves with the thought that six months after the war ends, when war time will cease, they can regain the hour's sleep lost last night.

War time, suggested and named by the president, was authorized by a recent act of congress. In Pennsylvania, many of those who had been bitter opponents of daylight saving time—because it interfered with the summer months—accepted war time with good grace. Many welcomed it.

Miners in the hard coal fields, once firm against extension of daylight saving time to the mines, have voted to cooperate. In Pittsburgh, Robert Garland, the man whose efforts generally are credited for the establishment of daylight saving time during the first World War, has said he "would go along with the president" although he once opposed year-around extension of the plan.

In Harrisburg, all of the clocks in the capital were changed to war time. The state's official time is Eastern Standard, but a law passed in 1887 carries the provision that changes made by congress would be followed by Pennsylvania.

MYSTERY CANDIDATE MAY BE JUDGE SMITH

BY JOHN R. CAMPBELL. Harrisburg, Feb. 9.—(P)—Common Pleas Judge Ralph H. Smith of Pittsburgh was suggested by political circles today as a possible "dark horse" candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination with the backing of U. S. Senator Joseph P. Guffey.

Guffey has admitted he has a candidate in mind but said he could not name him before a meeting of party leaders in Harrisburg next Saturday. The senator said his man was "the strongest candidate in the state at this time."

Smith, himself, had "no comment" and declared he had not been in contact with Guffey.

On boarding or leaving a U. S. Navy ship, officers and men face at salute the flag.

Teachers Are Pledged To Aid Sugar Program

(From Page One) Under Henderson's announced plan, 120,000,000 books containing stamps will be distributed. Each person will be permitted a limited quantity—probably about 12 ounces a week. He said it would be "a few weeks" before books are ready for allocation.

When the plan gets into full swing, one person in each family will be required to sign an application form and list the quantity of sugar his family has stored in cupboards or cellars.

The stamps in the books will be turned over to grocers as sugar is required and grocers will return the stamps to the government when his supplies need replenishing.

DECLARES FIFTH COLUMN ACTIVE

Washington, Feb. 9.—(P)—The Dies committee, asserting that a Japanese fifth column awaits only Tokyo's orders to strike on the Pacific coast, plans to demand that all Japanese be uprooted from west coast states and interned at least 500 miles inland.

"Shinto Temples still operate, propaganda outlets still disseminate propaganda material and Japanese both alien and American citizens still spy for the Japanese government," the committee says in the first draft of a "yellow paper" which it probably will make public in about two weeks.

Chairman Dies (D-Tex.) said yesterday justice department orders ousting Japanese from certain Pacific coast areas of vital defense importance had not been completely effective. He said Japanese were making ready espionage such as smoothed the way for the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor.

Possibility of Victory in A Year Foreseen by Cripps

(From Page One) Cripps said in a broadcast, "the chance that he may be strong enough to renew his offensive."

If he does strike, the former ambassador predicted, it will be a blow for the cause of the Allies. "A new and terrific blitz planned with the meticulous care of the German," and "the most critical stage of the whole war."

Of Britons still dominated by the "old fear complex" toward Russia, he said, they "must not be allowed to influence our relations with Russia in a negative way. Either we have a partnership with Russia in the reconstruction of Europe or we plunge the world again into chaos."

Cripps urged an immediate, clear statement of the United Nations' aims.

Batteries on Cavite Silenced

The Japanese, the war department communique disclosed, gained some ground in an infiltration thrust against MacArthur's right, which is anchored on Manila Bay. The enemy, however, were thrown back in a sharp counter-attack.

Details of the heavy fighting on the left, or China Sea, flank were not disclosed, but it was on the side of the peninsula that the Japanese have been using suicide detachments in a costly and futile attempt to turn MacArthur's line.

Brigadier General Clinton Pierce commented Saturday on the sacrifice nature of such operations when he talked to Clark Lee, the Associated Press correspondent on Bataan with MacArthur's army.

Pierce, who had a toe shot off by a Japanese sniper the other day, rated the enemy troops used for the flank attacks as even more formidable than the seasoned units which the Japanese have used for their major attacks on MacArthur as he fell back successfully to the peninsula stronghold, frustrating enemy attempts to annihilate his army.

The intensive twenty-four hour aerial plastering of the American lines which went with the latest enemy thrust on Bataan evidently was part of the softening-up to pave the way for the hoped for breakthrough.

In their methodical blasting at the harbor forts, the Japanese apparently were relying on concealed batteries on the southern or Cavite side of the bay.

COAST HAS FLOOD

Yuna City, Calif., Feb. 9.—(P)—Nearly 20,000 acres of fertile Sacramento valley farm land and scores of homes lay under several feet of water today after the Feather river ripped a gaping hole in a levee. Nearly 75 miles to the south, the Sacramento river flooded 8,800 acres near Rio Vista.

A letter from George Washington deploring the lack of naval strength was read in the Continental Congress November 1, 1775 and the next day $100,000 was appropriated for a naval force.

Many Homeless After Fire in Philadelphia. (From Page One)

sent flames hundreds of feet into the air. Eight alarms were sounded. Forty fire companies and 75 pieces of apparatus joined the fight.

Four buildings were destroyed and 15 others were damaged before the swift-spreading flames were brought under control.

Approximately 200 persons—most of them firemen—were treated for injuries at the scene. Eleven persons were taken to hospitals. Most seriously hurt was a fireman who received a broken back and crushed foot.

Fifty families were left homeless and 1,000 were driven from their homes temporarily by smoke and fear of the fire spreading.

Many ran into the streets in scanty clothing despite the 24-degree temperature. Power and light lines fell under coating of ice.

Neighbors saw an explosion preceded the fire which started in the four-story warehouse of the Acme Furniture Company. Owners of the company said their damage alone was more than $200,000.

Cuy E. Parsons, the city's chief air raid warden, called nearly 2,000 district wardens to handle the crowds. He praised their work but said "this would be some mess if it were a real bomb attack."

City officials said the fire was the city's worst since the $1,000,000 Broad street station conflagration of June 11, 1923.

Call For Extra Session To Be Made This Week

(From Page One) said James would decide early this week upon the date for the session, but Capitol Hill expects the legislators to assemble next week, possibly Monday, February 16, or the following day.

The way was cleared for the session by a bi-partisan agreement in writing last week on a plan to reduce the state's delegation in the house of representatives from 24 to 23 as required by the 1940 census.

The agreement called for the re-shuffling by Republicans of northern tier counties to eliminate one district and the re-grouping by Democrats of western Pennsylvania counties to cut one district in Allegheny county. One congressman will be elected on a statewide basis.

Governor James has indicated he would ask the special session to authorize county commissioners to appropriate money for local defense activities and to postpone effectiveness of a new law creating a new parole law.

The act is scheduled to become effective June 1 but the governor has delayed making appointments to the board, asserting it is no time to start new enterprises.

Nurse Accused of Slaying of Newborn Baby

Kraus said the slim, brunette nurse had admitted she was held four days for observation in Belleview hospital's psychopathic ward in November, 1940, after she had taken an overdose of sleeping tablets.

He added that she had returned to the Bronx institution three months ago after having recovered from a nervous breakdown and had last summer to have a baby, which did not live.

Physicians held out some hope for the second baby today, although it was in dangerous condition.

Neither Mrs. Castor, 33, mother of the dead child, nor Mrs. Fred Fantagone, 34, mother of the other baby, a four-day-old girl, were informed of their infants' fate.

NEWS BLAMED FOR WAVERING STOCK MARKET

New York, Feb. 9.—(P)—News from far Pacific battle fronts today put brakes on bullish stock market tendencies.

Leaders wavered at the opening and, while there was no particular selling urgency lowering of bids resulted in declines of fractions to a point or so for prominent rails and industrials. Few recoveries were in sight near the fourth hour.

The crisis at Singapore, plus doubts of MacArthur's ability to withstand the Japanese invasion avalanche in the Philippines for any great length of time, received the principal blame for the lackluster market performance. Business news, including earnings statements, propped a few issues but provided little inspiration elsewhere.

ICY CONDITION OF STREETS IS ACCIDENT CAUSE

A number of minor accidents occurred in the borough over the weekend due to the extremely slippery condition of the thoroughfares. Several were reported to the police department although they resulted in little damage and many were not reported which resulted in lesser property loss.

A car driven by Mrs. Maude R. Howe, 108 Jackson street, was struck in the rear by another machine driven by George Simko, of Sheffield, Saturday afternoon about 4:45 o'clock. The mishap occurred in Liberty street, near Second avenue, when Mrs. Howe stopped for the traffic light at that point.

Another small crash of the same nature occurred Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock involving cars driven by Arthur Cooper, 9 South Street and Joe O'Connor, of Sheffield. Cooper is reported to have been driving east on Pennsylvania avenue and at the intersection of Conewango avenue his car was bumped in the rear by O'Connor's machine. Cooper's car was only slightly damaged.

A 1939 Dodge sedan driven by Roy Edinger, 125 Russell street, was damaged slightly Sunday evening at 6:50 o'clock at the intersection of Pennsylvania avenue and Russell street. Edinger is reported to have been traveling east on the avenue and was about to make a left turn into Russell street when his car was struck in the rear by another machine, the driver of which was not learned.

Morocco Scene Of Outbreak

in the Donets basin against German battalions whose massed artillery fire, a Russian expert said had lost its power. The British radio said the Russians already had announced the recapture of Krasnograd.

Planes made in the United States were reported performing satisfactorily on the Russian front in the extreme cold which has jammed a large part of the German war machine.

A blow to German military power was the death of Germany's construction wizard, Maj. Gen. Fritz Todt, 50.

It was announced from Berlin that he had been killed yesterday in an air accident while "carrying through his military tasks in the east."

Todd built the Siegfried Line which guards Germany's western front. Winter and Russia's attacks have played havoc with his roads on the eastern front.

The urgent need of all-out aid to Russia by Britain and the United States was stressed in two addresses in England yesterday by Sir Stafford Cripps, who returned recently from Moscow after serving as British ambassador there. He said the defeat of Germany within one year's time was possible but it depended on American and British help.

In the Donets basin, the Germans asserted that the Red army had lost several thousand men killed and more than 1,000 prisoners in the past two weeks but admitted that they generally maintained the weight of their counter-drive.

NORTH WARREN MINSTRELS ARE IN REHEARSAL

The North Warren Minstrels of 1942 are in rehearsal and will be presented to the public next month, it is announced today by Russell F. Dietrich, the director.

This will be the fourth annual show put on by the North Warren group, and, according to Director Dietrich, this year's production will be on a scale to surpass all previous presentations. That, however, is said to have been received with a grain of salt by the enthusiastic crowd which so loudly acclaimed last season's performance as unsurpassed.

Many will recall that last year the house was completely sold out and a large number of people had to be turned away, so deservedly popular has become this annual entertainment.

by congress, the Internal Revenue Bureau listed the names of those who paid more than their share and the amounts of their refunds.

Deep in the list was the name of Douglas MacArthur, now holding Bataan Peninsula against the Japanese invaders of the Philippines. The bureau reported it had sent the general its check for $629,666, as executor for the estate of Mary P. MacArthur, his mother.

Perhaps they wouldn't have missed it, but:

Heiress Doris Duke Cromwell drew $7,169,966; Marshall Field, publisher and merchant, $531,237; Harvey Firestone, Jr., of Akron, O., $533,655.

California's movie colony was represented. Ina Claire was listed for a refund of $98,205; Fred Astaire drew $721 and Mary Boland $471.

The government sent back $1,756,055 to explorer Richard E. Byrd—to Boston, rather than his south pole address.

Tanker Crew is Saved After 56 Hours in Boats

officially announced by United States, British and Canadian sources since Jan. 12 when the present Axis submarine campaign in American waters began.

The China Arrow's sister ship, India Arrow, was sunk Wednesday night and the freighter San Gil went down at midnight Tuesday—both in waters not far from the scene of the latest sinking.

In all three attacks, the raider refrained from shelling the sinking ships until their crews had left in lifeboats.

Captain Paul H. Browne, 46, New York City, said two torpedoes from the surfaced submarine struck the China Arrow within a few seconds, setting her afire and destroying the radio transmitter.

Capt. Browne said the sea was dead calm when the lifeboats pulled away. The submarine then fired between "15 to 40 shells" from a range of 500 feet.

"They could easily have shelled or machine-gunned us," the captain said, "but they seemed to have a pretty decent skipper."

"I'll give the commander credit for that. They did not touch the men in the lifeboats. They did not talk to us. They just hung around until we were clear and then they began shelling."

As he banked, the first of seven shots hit the ship. One pierced Henson's hip and stomach. Another penetrated the gasoline tank, forcing Richardson to switch to an emergency supply.

Henson slumped against Miss Keith's groaning. Richardson, fearing another salvo, decided against an emergency landing despite his passenger's injuries and flew his crippled ship back to the airport.

Ex-Convict is Shot Down in Police Station about one-third of his life in prisons, ended with the 26-year-old ex-convict lying dead on a police station floor.

Shortly after a tavern holdup in which two men were slain, Skupien walked into the new city police station yesterday. He waved a pistol and shouted:

"I'm going to rescue my partner. I'll get those dirty squealers."

Sergeant Joseph Connelly stepped toward him but the enraged Skupien, firing one hot wildly, dashed into the squad room where 10 witnesses to the tavern killings were waiting to be questioned.

Skupien forced two women in front of him, lined up several other persons, including a reporter, against the wall and backed up against a staircase. He threatened to kill any detectives who came into the room.

Meanwhile, Detective John Leahy dashed up stairs, went through a suite of offices on the second floor, and crept down three steps to a landing directly above Skupien, on the stairs in the squad room.

With his pistol about 10 feet from the ex-convict's head, the 42-year-old officer fired two shots. Skupien wheeled and fired four times, two of the shots slightly wounding two witnesses. Leahy then fired twice more, killing Skupien.

Looks as if Larry MacPhail were slipping—he not only failed to sign Wyatt Saturday, but after the confab Wyatt confided: "We talked more about crows than contracts." . . . The first of the physical fitness program at dear old Rutgers resulted in eight "major" casualties and countless bruises but no deaths for D. O. R. yet.

Today's Guest Star
Jim Reed, Topeka (Kans.) Daily Capital: "Why doesn't the Oregon coach who put the basketball officials in the crowd's nest back of the backboard plant the whistle-toters in the stands with the spectators? . . . Who ever heard of a spectator missing one from his paw?"

Eight rumors recorded — that Mike Jacobs is planning a Joe Louis show at Atlantic City, N. J., as a favor to Abe Greene, the New Jersey commissioner.
